

"Am I therefor become your enemy, because I tell you the truth?"

— GALATIANS, 4:16

Common Sense®

Trade-mark registered 1948 United States Patent Office

!
 "The truth,
 the whole truth,
 and nothing
 but the truth,
 ... without fear
 or favor"

Conde McGinley
 1990 • FOUNDER • 1969

Special Edition, July, 1969

Second Class Postage Paid at Union, N.J.

Subscription $3.00 per year

"ISRAEL" DEBUNKED: A CRIMINAL ZIONIST CONSPIRACY

By BENJAMIN H. FREEDMAN

Founder 1950 Christian Anti-Defamation League

As I sit here now at my typewriter, eager to communicate the important information I have in mind to the readers of Common Sense, my heart is filled with fear for the security of the United States by the threat of the criminal Zionist conspiracy. The readers of Common Sense can best serve their country and their own personal interests by favoring what they are about to read with their most serious consideration and prompt attention. There is much more at stake than meets the eye which makes that request a necessity.

The shooting that goes on every day along the Middle East cease-fire lines may erupt at any moment into a full-scale major war. That has appeared inevitable from day to day for many months. The daily newspaper accounts and radio broadcasts remind the nation that the Middle East crisis may at any moment now blow-up into Act I of World War III.

The outbreak of a major war in the Middle East will most certainly create a threat to the security of the United States, and possibly a threat to its survival. There cannot be a doubt about that any longer. The danger has increased in recent weeks because neither the United Nations nor the Four Power meetings came up with a plan for peace in the Middle East that by any stretch of the imagination is acceptable to all the parties concerned to reconcile their differences. Their recourse to war now appears as the only solution to the Middle East problem.

For a reason that is difficult to grasp, the Christian 97% of the population of the United States shows very little interest in the fact they will be called upon by their Government to bear the burden of the cost of that war, in men or in money or both as the case may be. The Christian 97% of our population, because they were 97% of our population at the time, bore the burden of the cost of both World War I and World War II in both men and money, whether or not they realized it then or do now.

In a sense that borders on treason to a trust by them, the Christian 97% of our population has never been told the truth, why the United States today continues to assume financial and international responsibility for "the political independence and territorial integrity" of the so-called State of Israel, contrary to all international treaty obligations of the United States.

The relationship between the United States and the so-called State of Israel has cost the Christian 97% of all the tax-payers in the United States 97% of the twenty-three billion dollars ($23,000,000,000.00) which the so-called State of Israel has cost the tax-payers of the United States in one form or another, with no end in sight. The Internal Revenue Department of the United States Treasury estimated that 97% of the direct and indirect taxes paid into the United States Treasury were paid by the Christian 97% of our population.

In a sense that borders upon treason to their trust, is the fact the Christian 97% of our population was not informed how the United States was railroaded into World War I by Zionist intrigue. The cost of 97% of that war in men and money was paid by the Christian 97% of our population. It is an admitted fact today by all the parties concerned, that the World Zionist Organization and the British War Cabinet entered into an agreement in London in 1916, whereby Great Britain agreed to hand Palestine over to "the Zionists of the world" as compensation to "the Zionists of the world" for exerting their influence in the United States to pressure the United States into World War I as Great Britain's ally on April 6, 1917. Great Britain promised Zionists something Great Britain did not own in order to drag the United States into the war as Great Britain's ally, two years after the outbreak of World War I, when a defeated Great Britain was about to accept Germany's generous peace offer, unless the United States could be railroaded into that war as Great Britain's ally.

In a sense that also borders on treason to a trust, the Christian 97% of our population was kept in the dark concerning the Zionist intrigue which eventually railroaded the United States into World War II. Zionist propaganda and pressure on President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill finally succeeded in dragging the United States into World War II on December 7, 1941, through the "back door" of Pearl Harbor. World War II had been raging in Europe since September 1, 1939. Great Britain and her allies were on the verge of surrender to Germany unless the United States could be railroaded into the war as Great Britain's ally. Germany did nothing that could justify a declaration of war by the United States against Germany. Germany remembered her World War I defeat by the entrance of the United States into World War I. Zionist intrigue maneuvered that according to their diaries by members of President Roosevelt's 1941 Cabinet.

Today all indications point to the fact that the United States is about to be railroaded into World War III by Zionist intrigue. Contrary to the best interests of the Christian 97% of our population, World War III will be fought to insure that "the Zionists of the world" can permanently retain possession of the Middle East territory illegally and im-morally acquired by naked Zionist aggression between 1948 and 1967. The cost of World War III to the Christian 97% of our population will be incalculable in men and money if that war develops into a nuclear war. That war does not appear to be as improbable today as it did a short time ago.

In view of the certainty of an outbreak of a major war in the not too distant future in the Middle East, it becomes imperative that the Christian 97% of our population are informed about the criminal Zionist conspiracy organized in Basle, Switzerland in 1897, by the paranoid journalist and playwright Theodor Herzl, proclaimed by Zionists throughout the world since then as "the father of Zionism." That knowledge will make it possible for the Christian 97% of our population to take measures they believe necessary at that time, to defend their political, cultural and economic traditions against the threats of the criminal Zionist conspiracy. That knowledge will make it possible for the Christian 97% of our population to prevent the Zionists from railroad-ing the United States into a major war in the Middle East which will make the present war in Viet Nam look like a Sunday School picnic by comparison.

The Christian 97% of our population must be made to understand that it was solely for personal political considerations in election years that President Truman, President Eisenhower, President Kennedy and President Johnson explicitly and implicitly gave Zionists to understand prior to the elections, that the Zionists could rely upon them if they elected them, "to defend the political independence and territorial integrity" of the so-called State of Israel. As a consequence, they were elected Presidents of the United States.

At the time President Truman, President Eisenhower, President Kennedy and President Johnson gave their pledge to the Zionists, they were well aware that under international law, recognized and observed by the United States, the so-called State of Israel was an illicit regime "proclaimed" in Palestine on May 14, 1948 by an armed uprising there of a minority of recently transplanted aliens who obtained membership in the United Nations by the intervention with the governments by South America by Cardinal Spellman secretly on their behalf.

Cardinal Spellman was the guest of honor at the 50th anniversary celebration of Beth Israel Hospital in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel on June 10, 1964. Mr. Charles H. Silver, the president of Beth Israel Hospital, presided on that occasion and Cardinal Spellman was invited as his guest of honor by his good friend, Mr. Silver. In introducing Cardinal Spellman to the guests,
 (Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

(Continued from Page 1, Column 3)

Mr. Silver announced, "I am going to confess a secret that I have kept for fifteen years." Mr. Silver then proceeded to "confess" that he had arranged for Cardinal Spellman to make two trips to South American countries on behalf of the Zionist conspiracy. As a Prince of the Church, Cardinal Spellman exerted his influence upon the Catholic South American countries to change their votes in the United Nations from "No" to "Yes," on the admission of the so-called State of Israel to the United Nations as a member, an agent there for the Zionists.

Mr. Silver "confessed" to his audience in the presence of Cardinal Spellman, that it was the votes which Cardinal Spellman "secured" which made possible the admission of the so-called State of Israel to the United Nations in June 1949. This was a very great achievement for Cardinal Spellman. The South American countries did not look favorably upon admitting as a member state to the United Nations the regime of a recent armed uprising by a minority of a population, especially by a minority of recently transplanted aliens. Many South American governments were themselves the result of armed uprisings by minorities of their native populations. The South American countries opposed admitting to the United Nations as a member state the regime of the armed uprising in Palestine in May 1948 of the minority of recently transplanted aliens from eastern Europe. They had acquired possession of 80% of Palestine in 1948 by naked aggression and by expulsion of the native Christian and Moslem 1,350,000 Palestinians from the country where they owned 94% of all the land and other assets.

If not for this unpardonable act by Cardinal Spellman for obvious reasons, on behalf of his Zionist friends in New York, the seat in the United Nations now occupied by the so-called State of Israel would now be occupied by the Republic of Palestine, and there would be no Palestine crisis today. Cardinal Spellman knew the Vatican had never recognized the so-called State of Israel at the time he pressured the Catholic South American countries to change their votes. Cardinal Spellman knew the recently transplanted alien invaders in Palestine were eastern European so-called Jews of Asian Mongoloid Turco-Finn ethnic origin and Khazar ancestry. Their ancestors never set foot in the Holy Land in Bible history nor in any prior era from time immemorial. Cardinal Spellman knew that he was not thus facilitating the "repatriation" of the "chosen people" to their "promised land," hastening the second coming of Christ, as Christians are taught will take place when "the Jews" are returned to Palestine. When I reminded Cardinal Spellman that the blood that would be spilled in Palestine would be on his head, he entertained me on many occasions, "get me off the hook." But alas, he had cast the die. It was too late to alter the course of history created by Cardinal Spellman's perfidy on behalf of the Zionists. Cardinal Spellman died of a broken heart. I was a close friend of Cardinal Spellman for twenty-three years and visited him frequently at his residence. As close as I was to Cardinal Spellman, he never discussed with me his secret arrangement with Mr. Silver on behalf of the criminal Zionist conspiracy, until after Mr. Silver "confessed" on June 10, 1964, at the Waldorf-Astoria function his "fifteen year secret."

To the everlasting shame of the United States, President Truman conspired with the Zionists to grant "instant recognition" on May 14, 1948, to the so-called State of Israel, the day on which the so-called State of Israel was to be "proclaimed" by the armed uprising of the recently transplanted eastern European so-called Jews. The "instant recognition" was to be extended, on May 14, 1948, immediately upon the departure of the last of the 200,000 British troops stationed in Palestine as a shield behind which to facilitate illegally transplanting into Palestine unwelcome and unwanted eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry.

President Truman in May 1948 was looking forward to his election in the November 1948 Presidential election as President in his own right. By "recognizing" the so-called State of Israel on May 14, 1948, President Truman was fishing for Zionist support in the November 1948 elections.

President Truman officially "recognized" the so-called State of Israel shortly before midnight on May 14, 1948, exactly eleven minutes after the Zionist armed uprising in Palestine, seven thousand miles away, "proclaimed" their "independence." President Truman kept up his Secretary of State General George C. Marshall until midnight to affix his signature upon the official "recognition" of the so-called State of Israel by the United States of America. President Truman had expressed his desire to "Ambassador" Elath in Washington, "to recognize the infant state in the first hour of its birth." Mr. Clark Clifford, once LBJ's Secretary of War, remained at President Truman's side until midnight to see that nothing went wrong with President Truman's plans.

Today, June 20, 1969, in The New York Times, Mr. James Reston, Executive Editor of The New York Times, and the nation's most prominent political commentator, confirmed the extent to which President Truman relied on Mr. Clark Clifford for his strategy. Mr. James Reston, in his column on the editorial page of The New York Times, commences his column today as follows: "Former Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford seems to be developing a reputation for rescuing American Presidents from disaster. He helped develop the strategy for saving President Truman from almost certain defeat in the Presidential campaign of 1948." It was no secret in Washington why President Truman shocked the world by "recognizing" an armed uprising in Palestine in May 1948, by the recently transplanted illegal minority as a sovereign state. The United States was bound by the principles of international law which the United States between 1890 and 1948, accepted and respected in thirteen treaties, declarations and precedents for United States foreign policy, establishing the rule that the United States would never recognize territorial acquisitions acquired by force.

Ten years after the night of May 14, 1948, "Ambassador" Elath of the so-called State of Israel, published his recollections of the skulduggery that took place in Washington on that night of May 14, 1948. The story was published in the Jewish Chronicle of London in a special anniversary issue, celebrating the 10th anniversary of the May 14, 1948 "recognition" of the so-called State of Israel. The names of President Truman, Secretary of State General George C. Marshall and Mr. Clark Clifford appear in that article as the principals in the skulduggery in Washington on the night of May 14, 1948. Actually, the story reads more like a Gilbert & Sullivan comic opera. President Truman's courage permitted President Truman on many occasions to concede that his "recognition" of the so-called State of Israel on May 14, 1948 won for him the 1948 election as President of the United States.

The historians of the future will determine the extent to which President Truman dishonored the office to which he aspired and sullied abroad the good name of the United States in international affairs.

President John F. Kennedy's surrender to the Zionists also borders on an act of treason to his oath of office as a United States Senator. On the day in November 1946 following his first election to Congress as a Member of the House of Representatives, I was closeted in the private office of John F. Kennedy's father, ex-Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, on the 9th floor of 230 Park Avenue, in New York City. I was reviewing with him at his request, recent developments in the Palestine question. Suddenly the door of Ambassador Kennedy's office flew open, and in rushed his son, the newly elected Congressman John F. Kennedy, bubbling with enthusiasm over his first election to Congress. The ex-Ambassador urged John to interrupt his journey from Boston to Washington, long enough to hear my explanation of the Palestine problem. The Ambassador informed John that he considered me the best informed person he knew on the Palestine question. The Ambassador also urged John to keep in contact with me as his most reliable source of information on the Palestine question. He explained it would become a very important question before long for the United States. The next four hours that day were spent by me with the future President of the United States, During one of my frequent visits to Senator Kennedy's office in Washington, he made available to me for suggestions, his draft of the address he was to deliver on August 25, 1960, before the Zionist Organization of America in New York City. It happened that August 25, 1960 was only a short time before the November 1960 Presidential election. Senator Kennedy had been prevailed upon to become the Democrat's candidate for President in the 1960 elections. His prospects were not good. He was a Catholic, and no Catholic had ever been elected President. After reading the draft, I suggested that Senator Kennedy delete several passages from his address before delivering it. In my opinion, they were not in the best interests of the United States. It was my belief that those passages were inimical to the best interests and to the security of our country. In three passages in the draft I saw were these words, "Israel is here to stay," and, "if elected," that Senator Kennedy would, "even at the cost of war," defend the "political independence and territorial integrity" of the so-called State of Israel. Senator Kennedy declined to answer whether or not a Zionist ghost-writer had authored that address for him. Senator Kennedy offered as his excuse for not deleting those passages, "Ben, I want to be elected." He was making a quid pro quo agreement with the Zionists. "If you will elect me President, I will use the prestige and power of the United States to insure the existence of the so-called State of Palestine." He did not in these exact words express his hopes.

In an article appearing in The Wall Street Journal on May 5, 1969, one of the most eminently qualified authorities on the Middle East crisis stated: "For example, shortly after his election President Kennedy told Israeli President Ben Gurion: 'I was elected by the Jews of New York and I would like to do something for the Jewish people.'" Very little more need be added here to illustrate why the foreign policy of the United States in the Middle East so blindly favors the so-called State of Israel contrary to the best interests of the United States. Out of respect for the memory of President Kennedy, I will refrain from including other illustrations of a similar nature.

Likewise, out of respect for the memory of President Dwight D. Eisenhower, I will omit here references to his many errors of commission and omission with regard to the so-called State of Israel, during his eight years in office as the President of the United States. President Eisenhower did bow his head and did bend his knee to the criminal Zionist conspiracy. As President Johnson's errors of commission and omission with regard to the so-called State of Palestine are of more recent vintage, they are still too fresh in the recollections of the Christian 97% of our population to be repeated here as a reminder to them of what they were.

There is a simple and plausible explanation why Zionists must exercise a form of censorship over the Christian 97% of our population in the United States. The criminal Zionist conspiracy would collapse like a house of cards in a Texas tornado if the truth about the criminal Zionist conspiracy leaked out to the Christian 97% of our population. From the day it was organized in 1897, the criminal Zionist conspiracy has been a conglomeration of nothing but lies. There has never been an iota of truth in the fiction and the fables circulated by Zionists in an attempt to validate the criminal Zionist conspiracy in the minds of the Christian 97% of our population. Each contention advanced was the figment of an overworked imagination. Zionists control the media for mass-information throughout the world. Zionists dictate to the publishing industry throughout the world

(Continued on Page 3, Column 1)

what shall and what shall not appear in textbooks. It staggers the imagination to realize the power Zionists possess to determine what Christians may be told and what they must not be told about the criminal Zionist conspiracy

As an illustration, there can be nothing further from the truth than Zionist propaganda that the eastern European so-called Jews of Asian Mongoloid Turco-Finn ethnic origin and Khazar ancestry are the descendants of a people who inhabited Palestine in Bible history. Alleging that because their co-religionists in Europe were persecuted without reason by Christians, Zionists demanded they be "repatriated" to their "ancient homeland," their "promised land," in that area of the Middle East allegedly "promised" to their mythical ancestor four thousand years ago by the invisible, eternal and omnipotent Creator of everything that occupies space. The criminal Zionist conspiracy was a 19th A.D. century concoction by eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry, whose ancestors were only converted in the 8th A.D. century from their pagan phallic worship to the monotheistic religious faith which they have allegedly professed since then.

The pagan eastern European Khazars were expelled from Central Asia by more savage and powerful peoples. That movement began about 400 B.C. The Khazars spread out and occupied the territory between the Don and the Lower Volga Rivers, pushing the Sarmatians westward to absorb the previously independent Iranic Scythians. It must not be supposed that this movement of the Khazars meant the disappearance from the face of the earth of the populations which inhabited that territory earlier. In the case of the indigenous populations in that territory, invasions such as the invasion by the Khazars did not result in the expulsion of the indigenous populations from their homelands. Much of the indigenous populations remained in their former homelands. They became an important element in the political regime of the invaders. The absorbed populations exerted a strong influence on their conquerors.

It is a mistaken idea to assume that the Khazar kingdom in eastern Europe was composed of a single unmixed ethnic stock. The Khazar invaders included white Khazars and others "black as hindoos." The invasion of eastern Europe by the Khazars reached the plains of the Lower Volga about 400 B.C. and spread through the Caucasus to the borders of Armenia by 198 B.C. The Khazar invaders of eastern Europe became the dominant element in this movement of six hundred years duration. But they no more displaced the many earlier ethnic groups indigenous to these territories than the invading Normans displaced the earlier populations of other ethnic origins in England. The Khazars coming into eastern Europe from Central Asia included the preceding Iranic populations of the Don and Volga area, the invading Nogai Tartars, the Georgians or Karthli, and some of the Talish-Tat-Iranians, which included the intervening Causasus tribal nations, some of whom, the Abkhazians, Ossetes, Circassians, Kumyks and Lesghians were partners of the invading Khazars. The Tartars, the Slavs, the Huns and the Bulgars also became elements of the population in the Khazar domination of eastern Europe.

During the eight hundred years following 198 A.D., when the Khazars first reached the Armenian frontier, they battled first with the Armenians and then with the Arabs for the control of Trans-Caucasia. The Khazars then pushed northward from the Black Sea and the Caucasus nearly to the Gulf of Finland. The Khazars presented the greatest commingling of ethnic groups of all other powers in Europe. Though the ruling class of the Khazars was driven from Russia a thousand years ago, many of their different ethnic groups remain commingled with the so-called Jews of western and southern Russia and Poland at this time. Following a war with the Bulgars that drove the Khazars across the Dneiper River, the king of the Khazars, Khagan Bulan, invited representatives of Christians, Moslems and so-called Jews to a conference at his court in 740 A.D. At that time he decided to adopt the religious faith professed by the so-called Jews as the official religious faith of the pagan Khazar kingdom and its people.

The criminal Zionist conspiracy was a criminal concept when it was organized in 1897, and has remained criminal in its practices since then. By the accepted standards of civilized nations, the criminal Zionist conspiracy became as un-American, non-American and anti-American as it was un-Christian, non-Christian and anti-Christian. From the day it was organized in Basle, Switzerland in 1897, the criminal Zionist conspiracy was nurtured on political corruption to further its objectives in Palestine. The ramifications of the criminal Zionist conspiracy throughout the world make it today their effective invisible one-world government.

The criminal Zionist conspiracy organized in 1897 in Basle, Switzerland by the paranoid journalist and playwright Theodor Herzl, "the father of Zionism," was conceived and created by him for one purpose. Herzl aimed to transplant into Palestine every so-called Jew in Russia, and the lesser numbers from eastern European countries adjoining Russia. Herzl's aim was to transform Palestine into a so-called "Jewish Commonwealth" where the so-called Jews could again rule themselves as they had once ruled themselves as their Khazar kingdom from their conversion in the 8th century to their conquest and annexation in the 13th century by Russia.

To gain the sympathy and support of the Christians for the criminal Zionist conspiracy, Herzl circulated the fraud throughout the world that the so-called Jews of the world were God's "chosen people," seeking "repatriation" to their "ancestral homeland," their "promised land." Herzl states in his autobiography that he expected pious Christians to assist the criminal Zionist conspiracy because Christians are taught that the second coming of Christ will follow the return of the so-called Jews to Palestine. Herzl also states in his autobiography that he expected assistance from the German Kaiser, who had told Herzl that he favored the creation of a "Jewish Commonwealth" in Palestine, because so-called Jews in Russia would stop moving into Germany and go to Palestine instead. Germans welcomed that idea.

The rise and fall of the Khazar kingdom is primarily responsible for the Middle East crisis today. The conquest by Russia of the Khazar kingdom, and the annexation to Russia of the Khazar territory and its large population of so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry, created the Palestine problem. The conquered and converted so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry resisted assimilation into the Russian empire with all the means at their disposal. After their conquest by the Russians, and the annexation of the Khazar kingdom, the so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry continued their existence in Russia as a state-within-a-state. They continued to speak their own language, they continued to use their own alphabet, they maintained their own courts, and they maintained their own schools where they taught only their own language. They resisted assimilation into the Russian culture. It was very much like the resistance into the Canadian culture of the French, when Quebec was conquered from the French by the British. The French in Quebec have often taken steps to secede from Canada. The French in Quebec still reject assimilation and seek their independence.

From the time of their conquest by the Russians in the 13th century, the conquered Khazars never ceased their efforts to secede from the Russian empire, and to restore their independent sovereign Khazar state. The conquered so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry never abandoned their struggle to secede from the Russian empire. The so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry continued their efforts to secede from the Russian empire, like the Irish continued their struggle for seven hundred years to secede from the British empire. They finally succeeded. The so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry continued their struggle to secede from their Russian conquerors for seven hundred years.

The so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry did not succeed because the Russian empire became one of the world's largest powers in territory and population. Russia defeated every attempt of the so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry to secede from Russia and restore their sovereign Khazar state, where they could speak their own language, use their own alphabet, and rule themselves as they did before their conquest by Russia. The friction between the Russian government and the so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry was political, not religious, as the world has always been given to believe.

The eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry never despaired of restoring their sovereign Khazar state. When the Polish Kingdom was partitioned between Russia and Germany in 1793, the Polish Kingdom disappeared from the map of Europe. The so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry in the Polish Kingdom were divided between Russia and Germany. After World War I ended, there was a movement to restore a Polish state in eastern Europe. The Versailles Peace Conference agreed to restore a Polish sovereign state in eastern Europe.

The so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry petitioned the Versailles Peace Conference to allocate to them a part of the territory reserved for the restoration of the Polish sovereign state, for a sovereign state for so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry. The Polish Christians opposed the idea. The idea was dropped after President Woodrow Wilson investigated the idea by sending the Hon. Henry Morgenthau, Sr. to Europe to report on the possibility of the scheme. Polish Christians and so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry were shooting each other in the streets of leading cities. Mr. Morgenthau, Sr. reports on his trip in his autobiography, "All in a Lifetime," where his report to President Wilson is included as an appendix.

The eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry were unable to sway the Paris Peace Conference to allocate to them a part of the territory reserved in eastern Europe for the Polish sovereign state. The eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry were unsuccessful in their effort to have the Versailles Peace Conference agree to divide the territory reserved for a Polish sovereign republic into two parts, with the other part for the creation of an independent sovereign state for the eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry.

Having failed in that attempt, the eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry demanded Palestine under the terms of the 1916 London Agreement between the British War Cabinet and the World Zionist Organization. Germany was defeated in World War I by the entrance of the United States into the war as Great Britain's ally. The Zionists now demanded their "pound of flesh" from Great Britain. Great Britain never owned Palestine to promise to anyone for anything. The Zionists disregarded the moral issue involved and pressed Great Britain to make good her promise of Palestine to "the Zionists of the world" upon the defeat of Germany.

The eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry were unable to convince the Versailles Peace Conference that Great Britain's promise of Palestine to the Zionists was a legitimate promise that could be enforced. The Versailles Peace Conference was not convinced that the eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry were the "chosen people" or that they possessed any right to be "repatriated" to Palestine as their "ancestral homeland," their "promised land." They were told that Palestine belonged to the people whose ancestors had fertilized the soil of Palestine with their sweat and blood for 1,700 years.

The Versailles Peace Conference knew the history of the Khazars from the end of the 2nd century A.D. The area under Khazar control varied greatly but the area between the Caucasus, the Volga and the Don Rivers, with the outlying province of the Crimea, was then regarded as the normal territory of the Khazars. They also knew that the Khazars were one of the tribal nations among the white race which inhabited the rolling prairies, extending from the mountainous area in Central Asia to the heart of Europe.

(Continued on Page 4, Column 1)

The Versailles Peace Conference was also aware that the Khazars fought their way into Armenia with the Barsileens in 198 A.D. where they were repulsed but returned to attack again. Their quest for plunder and revenge appeared the only motives of the early expeditions against each other of those roving tribal nations. The Khazars had assumed political importance in the long struggle between the Roman and Persian empires, when Armenia was often the battlefield and eventually the prize. Armenia was inclined to look upon civilization with favor and before long was inclined to favor the Christianity of Rome. Because Armenia's Arsacid nobles prolonged their feuds with the Asanids of Persia, the policy of the Persian kings was to obtain help from the Khazars between 200 A.D. and 350 A.D.

During the 4th century A.D., the growing power of Persia resulted in the annexation of eastern Armenia. The Khazars fearing to have such a powerful neighbor, ended their relationship with Persia. The Khazars made an alliance with the distant Byzantium which thereafter remained their foreign policy. They aided Julian in his invasion of Persia in 363 A.D. Upon the approach of Persia to the Caucasus, the violently cruel empire of the Huns sprang up among the Ugrians of the northern prairies.

The Khazars were threatened on all sides but they remained peaceful until their danger culminated in the rise to power of Attila in 434 A.D. Emperor Theodisius sent envoys to bribe the Khazars to divert the Huns from the empire by an attack on their flank. But among the Khazars there was a group favorable to the Huns. The conspiracy was betrayed to Attila who quickly ended their independence. The Khazar kingdom thereupon became subject to Attila's son, and became the center of government among the eastern subjects of the Huns about 448 A.D.

The iron rule of Attila was preferable to the anarchy that succeeded Attila's rule. Upon Attila's death in 454 A.D., the extensive uncontrolled immigration which Attila had ended was revived. The Khazars and the Saragours, possibly the white Ogors, and possibly the Barsileens of the Volga area, were swept along in the flood of mixed Tartar peoples which the conquest of the Avars had set in motion.

The Khazars with their allied tribal nations penetrated the Persian defenses of the Caucasus. They occupied the territory as far as the Kur and Aras Rivers, and roamed at will through Iberia, Georgia and Armenia. The Persian king implored Emperor Leo I to help him defend Asia Minor at the Caucasus in 457 A.D., but Rome was too hard pressed at the time to help him. It thereafter required fifty years of warfare to drive the Khazars back and to fortify the Pass of Derbent against them in 507 A.D.

Throughout the 6th century, the Khazar kingdom became the route over which the wild hordes, to whom the Huns had opened the passage into Europe, then populated large areas in Europe. The Khazars were compelled to take refuge from them among the seventy mouths of the Volga River, exactly like the Venetians from Attila. The pressure of the Turks in Asia forced the Avars westward into Europe. The conquering Turks however followed the Avars westward into Europe between 560 A.D. and 580 A.D. They defeated all opposition there and wrested the Bosphorous in the Crimea from the empire. By the annihilation of the Ephthalites, they completed the ruin of the white race of the plains between the Oxus and the Don River.

The empires of the Turks and the Avars swiftly ran their courses. Thereupon the Khazars arose out of the chaos to greater renown than their former prominence among the other nations which rose and fell in that area. The agricultural Slavs of the Dneiper and the Oka were reduced to tribute to the Khazars. Before the end of the 7th century

A.D. the Khazars annexed the Crimea. They had won a complete command of the Sea of Azov. The Khazars seized the narrow strip of land which separates the Volga from the Don Rivers and there organized the portage which has since continued as an important link in the traffic between Asia and Europe.

The Khazars renewed the alliance with Byzantium. In alliance with them they conducted a campaign against Persia in 589 A.D. The Khazars had also appeared in Armenia. The Khazars were described by them as "Turks from the East." The Khazars were powerful enough to hold the coasts of the Caspian Sea and the Euxine. They exacted tribute from the Viatitish, the Severians, and the Polyane. The Khazar king was enticed by the promise of an imperial princess to furnish Heraclius with 40,000 soldiers for his Persian war. Though overpowered in the end, the Khazars protected the plains of Europe from further Islamic incursions. The Caucasus became the limit of their advances.

In the interval between the decline of Islamic influence and the rise of Russia, the Khazars reached the zenith of their power. The ruling Khazar population was converted about 740 A.D. to the monotheistic religious faith known in modern times as Judaism. The Khazar king was held in high esteem at the Byzantium court. Emperor Justinian Rhinotmetus took refuge with the Khazar king during his exile, and married his daughter in 720 A.D. Justinian's rival, Vardenes by name, also sought asylum in the Khazar kingdom. In 775 A.D., Leo IV the grandson of the Khazar ruler, ascended the Byzantine throne. Khazar troops were amongst the bodyguard of the Byzantine court.

However, it was not from one of these powers, but from a power that the Khazar rulers had not taken into consideration, that the overthrow of the Khazars came. The arrival of the Varengians in 882 A.D. from the Swedish peninsula across the Baltic Sea, into the midst of the large population of scattered Slavs, united the Slav population into a nation for the first time in their history. The advance of the Petchenegs from the east gave the Russians their opportunity. Before the fierce onslaught of these peoples, the weakened rule of the Khazars collapsed. The Khazar kingdom dwindled rapidly in size to within its former borders, between the Caucasus, the Volga and the Don. The traders of Novgorod and Kiev replaced the Khazars as the caravans between Constantinople and the North.

The Khazar kingdom neither produced natural resources nor provided manufactured products. Their only source of income was the large revenue they derived from the use by other nations of their highway caravan routes which foreigners were compelled to use, to pass through the Khazar kingdom to market their products. When the Khazar kingdom was ultimately attacked by Swiatoslav of Kiev with large Russian armed forces, the crumbling Khazar kingdom crumbled and collapsed. Swiatoslav's Russian armed forces were equally at home on land and water. Sarkel, Itil and Semender surrendered to Swiatoslav of Kiev between 965 A.D. and 969 A.D. Swiatoslav of Kiev extended his conquests to the Caucasus where he established Russian colonies on the Sea of Azov. The principality of Tmutaraken, founded by his grandson Matislave in 988 A.D., replaced the kingdom of the Khazars, the last trace of which was extinguished by a joint expedition of the Russian and Byzantine armed forces in 1016 A.D.

The eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry were unable to restore the sovereign Khazar state after their defeat by the Russians and the annexation of the territory and population of the Khazar kingdom by the Russian empire. That is history. Zionists are attempting to repeat in the Middle East their performance in east Europe. European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry waged war against the Christians and Moslems in the Middle East in their attempt to establish a sovereign Khazar state in the Middle East. They were unable to restore the Khazar kingdom in eastern Europe.

It would be the height of stupidity, and probably suicidal as well, for the United States to assist being railroaded into the Middle East crisis any more deeply than it is today. Every effort should be made to extricate this country from the position into which it was railroaded under the direction of corrupt Christian politicians in the United States. What excuse can there be for the United States to use its power and prestige to aid crooks to hold onto their stolen loot? Every square foot of land illegally and immorally occupied by them in the Middle East between 1920 and 1969 is land stolen from Christian and Moslem Arabs.

The eastern European so-called Jews of Asian Mongoloid Turco-Finn ethnic origin and Khazar ancestry call their illegal and immoral regime in Palestine the State of Israel. The word "Israel" in the Semitic language means "in the service of God." That name was chosen by Zionists to throw sand into the eyes of the Christian world. Christians see the word "Israel" on every page of their Bible. But in view of the slaughter of innocent men, women and children in Palestine by the eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry, the United States becomes an accessory after the fact to this slaughter by support of the barbarian Zionist aggressors in occupation of the Middle East territory by naked aggression.

The readers of Common Sense will prevent a great calamity for this country by doing two things. Firstly, write a letter to President Nixon protesting against all support for the so-called State of Israel. Secondly, purchase one hundred, five hundred, or a thousand copies of this issue of Common Sense and circulate them in your community, in your city and state, and throughout the United States. Your immediate attention to both requests may mean salvation for this country. Obey that impulse. Act now.

It is an insult to the intelligence of the Christian 97% of our population for eastern European so-called Jews of Khazar ancestry to allege they are the "chosen people" seeking to be "repatriated" to their "ancestral homeland," to their "promised land." The criminal Zionist conspiracy is founded only upon lies, and lies and more lies. Zionists have never advanced one reason to justify their aggression in Palestine that was not proven to be just another one of their gigantic lies without a shred of truth in it.

The Christian 97% of our population can never now say they were not warned of their peril in time to save themselves. The President and the Congress of the United States are inviting another civil war if they railroad the United States into another world war. The Christian 97% of the United States must petition Congress to end all relations with the so-called State of Israel. If United States foreign policy in the Middle East continues to be determined by eastern European so-called Jews, the future of the United States is in danger. The life-span of the United States will reflect the steps taken to end Zionist rule of the United States. Write President Nixon the day this issue of Common Sense is received by you. The Christian 97% of our population still has time to save their country and themselves. May God help us too.

Common Sense.

UNION, NEW JERSEY, U.S.A.

	U. S. CANADA	U. S. CANADA FOREIGN
	1ST CLASS	2ND CLASS
1 year	$5.00	$3.00
2 years	8.00	5.00
3 years	10.00	7.00
Lifetime	—	50.00
Foreign 1st Class — $10.00 per year
BULK COPIES — SAME or ASSORTED
20 copies	$1.00
100 copies	4.00
500 copies	15.00
1000 copies	20.00

Published twice monthly except July and August, once each, by

CHRISTIAN EDUCATIONAL ASSN.
530 Chestnut Street, Union, N. J. 07083